AeroTurbine Expands Supply Chain Offering Through Repair Vendor Management Agreement with Airinmar

AMSTERDAM, May 6 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- AerCap Holdings N.V. ("AerCap"), (NYSE: AER) announced today that its subsidiary AeroTurbine has signed a three year agreement with Airinmar UK Ltd. This relationship will allow AeroTurbine to expand its supply chain management offering to airlines across the world by identifying the highest quality and most cost effective solutions for material repair while bundling it with component leasing and rotatable pools strategically located in the Americas, Europe and Asia. The agreement will cover IT systems integration, visibility of the supply chain, vendor performance management, warranty management, reliability, and value engineering. AeroTurbine will maintain final vendor selection responsibility.

"AeroTurbine is excited about working with an organization as reputable and experienced as Airinmar. We look forward to their expertise in the material repair arena so we can continue to focus on our close to the customer business model," said Michael King, AeroTurbine President and Chief Executive Officer.

Airinmar Ltd. CEO Malcolm Fullbrook said, "Airinmar is delighted to have formalized a new business relationship with such a professional and dynamic company and looks forward to working as an extension to AeroTurbine's Supply Chain Solutions and developing a relationship that reaches a worldwide customer base."
